Talk2Me Technology- Enabling older people with dementia from CALD backgrounds to communicate their everyday needs

Talk2Me will explore how people with dementia from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds (CALD) can easily communicate everyday needs with carers who do not speak the same language.

Existing technology supporting voice to voice translation (e.g. Google Translate), has not been designed with the needs of older people, including those with dementia, in mind. Talk2Me will address this issue, using a co-design approach.
