

Melbourne
Ageing Research
Collaboration

Care for Older People Living at Home - Workshop -

Wednesday 1st November 2023

9.00am – 12.30pm

National Ageing Research Institute
34–54 Poplar Road Parkville VIC 3052
Zelma Riddell Room – Building 9

The Melbourne Ageing Research Collaboration (MARC) invites MARC partners and MARC Community Advisory Group members to a workshop to consider all aspects of care for older people living at home. The workshop will develop research priorities around this topic and highlight the issues which may benefit from policy and practice change. It will include consumers views, current and emerging models of care as well as the opportunity for participation in co-design approach through small group discussions.

This is a free in-person event for all MARC partner members and Community Advisory Group members.

To book a place in this MARC event, please visit/click the link:

<https://www.trybooking.com/CMFZH>

9:00am	Registration and networking (including tea and coffee)
9:30am	Welcome including Acknowledgement of Country
9:35am	Context of the current Australian home-based aged care system Dr Tanya Davison, Silverchain
10:00am	A personal view of a carer Jenny Ashby
10:20am	Models for care at home – emerging evidence Professor Alison Hutchinson, Deakin University and Sue Williams, National Ageing Research Institute
10:45am	Morning Tea and networking
11:05am	Small group theme-based discussion (including impact of dementia, role of carers, supporting independence and community services)
11:45am	Group discussion and next steps
12:30pm	Close

With special thanks to the Melbourne Ageing Research Collaboration (MARC) partners:

